GIVING BACK with ZACK

Zack, a 12 year old boy, who has been on the sidelines of games talking to players, owners coaches and broadcasters will be interviewing Professional Athletes about their career and their charitable work.

So many professional athletes are using their platforms for Good to make an impact in their community. With Giving Back with Zack, we want to show another side of athletes, the Charitable work they are doing, and how they are positive adult role models for kids and community hero's.
